² The Investment objective of HXS changed effective April 1, 2013 so that it no longer attempted to replicate the S&P 500® (CAD Hedged) Index, net of expenses.

Horizons BetaPro Exchange Traded Funds (HBP ETFs), a unique series of alternative Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs), are designed to help investors achieve their investment goals in a variety of market conditions. HBP ETFs go beyond traditional index funds. Horizons BetaPro Single ETFs are designed to track the performance of a specified underlying index, commodity or benchmark, before fees, expenses, distributions, brokerage commissions and other transaction costs.

Investment Objective

The Horizons S&P 500® Index ETF ("HBP S&P 500® ETF") ETF seeks to replicate, to the extent possible, the performance of the S&P 500® Index (Total Return), net of expenses.

Investment Strategy

The Horizons S&P 500® ETF intends to enter into a swap with the Counterparty pursuant to which each ETF will gain exposure to its Underlying index. An ETF may also invest in and hold the securities of constituent issuers in substantially the same proportion as they are reflected in the underlying index of the ETF or the ETF may invest in and hold index participation units of exchange traded funds that are based on its underlying index. The ETFs will remain fully invested in or exposed to the markets at all times. The ETFs may also invest in futures contracts and forward agreements in order to provide exposure for other cash held by the ETFs and may also hold money market instruments, securities of money market funds or cash to meet its current obligations.
